

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

SMART society witnessed the brilliant marriage on yesterday afternoon in Park Place Methodist Church of Miss Mary Fievellyn Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Drake, of Richmond, to Mr. James J. Pritchett, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Pritchett, of Danville, Va. The Rev. Dr. Colonna officiating.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, gowned in white messaline satin, and wore a large veil caught with a diamond crescent, and carried orchids and lilies.

Miss Mary Hunter Bethel, of Danville, was charming as maid of honor in rose pink messaline and duchesse lace, and held a large cluster of Killarney roses.

Misses Alice Cummings, of Danville; Lillian Binford, Brent Witt, Copra Younger, Louisa McAdams and Nancy Waddell were the bridesmaids, who wore empire dresses of white net over tulle, and carried bouquets of Killarney roses.

Misses Aiston Drake and Anne Drewry Benson were ribbon holders. Their frocks were also of pink and white.

Mr. Richard Pritchett, of Baltimore, was best man and brother to the groom.

The ushers included Messrs. Albert Patton, James Catlin, of Danville; Walter Ferrell, of Lynchburg; Robert Polard and James H. Drake, Jr., of Richmond; Mr. C. C. Panckay, of West Virginia; Mr. Cloyd Kent and Mr. Robert Munford, Jr., of this city, were groomsmen.

Elaborate decorations in palms, smilax and ferns adorned the chancel. Similar ones were used in the home of the bride, No. 1206 Floyd Avenue, where a large reception was held immediately after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Pritchett are now spending their honeymoon in the North, and will be at home after December 15th in Danville.

Scarcely has there ever been a more prominent wedding uniting representatives of such distinguished Southern ancestry, and the removal of Miss Drake from Richmond society will be distinctly felt by her numerous friends.

Donation Day.
Attention is called to the fact that Thursday, November 28th, Thanksgiving, is donation day at the Richmond Home for Ladies, Methodist and Presbyterian.

Groceries and supplies are greatly needed, and the board of control for this institution earnestly hope for the generous and charitable friends of the aged and infirm will remember this day, and emphasize the "Thanksgiving" idea in the sending of gifts to those who are needy.

Mrs. Knox's Reception.
The debutantes of this and last seasons and other friends are invited by Miss Jean Bayly Knox this afternoon, from 4 to 7 o'clock, to meet her guest, Miss Fourquhar Hooff, of Alabama, in the hostess's home, No. 313 South Third Street.

Miss Knox and Miss Hooff will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. L. L. Lewis.

Pink and white chrysanthemums, palms and candles will decorate the drawing and dining-rooms.

A charming group of young girls not quite "out" will serve in the dining-room, with a few of Miss Knox's intimate friends.

Smith-Boykin.
The marriage of Miss Elsie Boykin to Dr. Francis H. Smith was celebrated at 5:30 P. M. yesterday in Grace Episcopal Church, the pastor, the Rev. Landon R. Mason, assisted by the Rev. F. T. McFadden, officiating.

The bride, who was gowned in white messaline, trimmed with rose point lace, and worn with pearls, was given away by her brother, Colonel Henry M. Boykin. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert H. Norment, as matron of honor, and by Misses Daisy and Fanny Boykin, as bridesmaids. Little Miss Miriam Norment and Master Frank McFadden held the ribbons.

Mr. James H. Smith was best man to the groom and the ushers were: Messrs. Philip S. Smith, W. Mayo Smith, Godwin Boykin, George W. Keller, W. A. Wallace and Dr. John A. Owen.

Immediately after the marriage, a reception was held for the bridal party and members of the family. Dr. and Mrs. Smith left later for a Northern tour. When they return they will make their home in Lewisburg, W. Va., where Dr. Smith has, for several years, been a very successful practitioner of medicine. Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mrs. S. H. Boykin, of No. 322 West Grace Street, and has always been a popular member of the best Richmond society.

King's Daughters' Lecture.
On the afternoon of Tuesday, December 24, at half-past 4 o'clock, in the Woman's Christian Association, Miss Maria Blair will deliver a lecture on the subject of "Scenes From the Orient, Including Jerusalem."

The universal interest and personal experiences of Miss Blair will furnish most delightful material for such a talk.

This lecture is given under the auspices of the Whittle Memorial Circle of King's Daughters, the proceeds of which will be expended upon the Belle Bryan Day Nursery and mission work in the Ragged Mountains of Virginia.

GOVERNOR TO WORK ON HIS MESSAGE

Can Make No More Engagements Until After Legislature Meets.

JUDGE BARKSDALE NAMED

Halifax Jurist to Sit in Important Case in Roanoke.

Governor Swanson has announced that he will not be able to make any engagements which will take him out of the city pending the meeting of the new Legislature, which will convene on January 8th.

The Governor not only has before him the routine work of his office, which in itself is heavy at times, but he will shortly begin work on his message, which will be prepared with great care, and which will require much thought and research, as it will treat many of the most important matters to be dealt with. The Governor will defer his proposed visit to the various hospitals until after the Legislature meets, and it is not unlikely that they will be further postponed until the body adjourns, as His Excellency will be busy all the while keeping up with the proceedings of the two houses.

Judge W. R. Barksdale, of Halifax, was yesterday designated to hold a special term of the Circuit Court at Roanoke city next Saturday, to hear the case of Conrad's administrator vs. D. W. Plunkwin.

This is the second trial of the cause, the first having resulted in a hung jury.

Writ of Error Granted.
The Supreme Court yesterday granted a writ of error in the case of Kiser's administrator vs. the Norton Coal and Coke Company, from the Circuit Court of Washington county.

Circuit Court.
Judgment entered yesterday: In the case of W. A. Childrey vs. J. G. Dombrower et als., jury returned verdict for defendant.

Case set for to-day: Mantle Fielding vs. Wm. G. Watkins.

"Under Southern Skies."
One of the unusual features of Lotie Blair Parker's play of Southern life is that the women of the cast outnumber the men. As a result, the play is a case of dramatic offerings. The presence of so many women upon the scene is one of the attractions of the play, especially as many of them are young and pretty. The birthday party of the youthful heroine, and the Halloween festivities, which include the carrying out of some amusing Halloween tricks and a jack-o'-lantern dance, give fine scope for showing the feminine members of the company to advantage. The play, which has been running for some time, is a difficult one to enact, portraying as it does all the emotions from gay and loving light-heartedness, to most intense and bitter grief. "Under Southern Skies" was written by a woman, and it gives women greater opportunity for acting than three-fourths of the ordinary dramas. This very successful play will be seen at the Academy on Thanksgiving Day, matinee and night.

LEADING MINISTER TALKS WITH DABNEY

Subsequently Declares That His Ordinance Is What the People Want.

LIQUOR DEALERS CHANGING?

Intimated That Less Aggressive Fight Will Be Made—Afraid of Legislature.

"Alderman Dabney's saloon ordinance is a big step in advance. It is about all we can get from Council, and seems to be what public sentiment demands. I believe the Times-Dispatch stated the case very clearly when it urged the passage of that measure. That we shall have restricted the liquor traffic, even in the event of a liquor victory in a local option election."

This statement was made yesterday by one of the most prominent ministers of Richmond, after he had discussed the law at some length with Alderman Dabney. He is of the opinion that it would be unfortunate to create strife, and added in a general way that he doubted if the people of Richmond were prepared to accept prohibition. He did say most emphatically, however, that something should be done to restrict and regulate the bars, especially with the view of driving them out of the residential sections.

The minister did not hesitate to say that he believed Mr. Dabney sincere in his fight, and he deprecated many of the reckless statements which have been made concerning his efforts to subdue an element which is working apparently to block all legislation in Council.

Big Change in Sentiment.
Within the past few days there has been a decided change in the attitude of certain aggressive liquor dealers according to information secured yesterday. One evidence of this was found in the fact that dealers in the Seventh Street neighborhood had been looking around in Manchester, with a view to locally agitating Severdemen called to see Mr. Dabney yesterday and told him that they did not purpose to fight his measure hereafter. It appears that there is no strong organization among the whiskey men, and while some of them are of the opinion that they should endeavor to defeat all laws, others have announced that it would be unwise to continue agitation and opposition.

It is becoming more and more certain that the Finance Committee will again endorse the Dabney ordinance without serious division, and Mr. Dabney can prevent it, he will not permit any amendments to be incorporated. He wants the battle fought squarely in Council.

Won't Cut Out Real Men.
One member of the Board of Aldermen informed Mr. Dabney yesterday that he would not oppose his plan provided the residential section feature is eliminated. Inasmuch as that is the meat of the whole thing—and what the public seemingly demands—the author answered in positive terms that he would not consider it. It is claimed that a number of saloons against which no complaint had been made would be forced to suspend, a fact which is admitted. This, however, is merely one of the obstacles encountered, but no favoritism can be shown and no class is to be excused.

Two leading members of the upper branch, who had been put down as opponents of the ordinance, have said that their position was misunderstood. They announce that they will support it, and by counting heads Mr. Dabney is satisfied his measure will be carried in that branch by a good majority if there is a full attendance of members.

Liquor Men Fear Legislation.
Press dispatches from Montgomery yesterday morning, telling of the passage of a prohibition law by the General Assembly of Alabama, aroused the liquor people to the possibility of a similar law by the Legislature of Virginia, certainly in the event that the City Council of Richmond blocks the efforts of the members who are trying to give relief to the community.

Liquor men who claim that they could carry the day against prohibition in a local option fight are somewhat afraid of the General Assembly, which would be in session here about the time the Richmond contest ends.

Like the Anti-Saloon League leaders, friends of the Dabney ordinance assert that the liquor people, by conditioning the motives of the opposition, and by declaring that there are no low saloons in the city have hurt the cause irreparably. For this and other reasons they say openly that the plan has a better chance of passage.
